LETTER FROM THE PASTOR

It was a year marked by a surging pandemic, political unrest, and racial tension. Words like “pivot” and “unprecedented” and “new normal” were used (and then overused) as Americans tried to make sense of all that was happening. Of my 30 years in ministry, this last year may have had the most uncommon twists and turns which came with fatiguing regularity. And yet, none of these twists are a surprise to God. Over these last 12 months, we have witnessed the faithfulness of God, the creativity of our staff, and the resiliency of our members. We have developed new ways to serve our neighbors, distributed more groceries than ever before, and gained a new appreciation for simply being together. On Sunday mornings, we studied the Book of Philippians to learn about joy in trying times, and Romans Chapter 8 to rejoice in the truth that nothing can separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus.

There was a time in the history of Ancient Israel when the future was uncertain. The people did not know what to do or even what kind of worship would most please God. The prophet Micah told them that God had already shown them what to do: Do justice, love mercy, and walk humbly with God (Micah 6:8). I suspect in times of uncertainty, these three commands form a helpful baseline of what God requires of us. This year, when much remains unknown, let us resolve to do three things: Do justice. Love mercy. Walk humbly.

God will continue to do great things in and through us!

CORE VALUES

The past year challenged Ward Church like never before, and necessitated innovation when it came to living out our Core Values.

THOUGHTFUL THEOLOGY

Our foundational beliefs stood the test of time, reinforcing our belief in God's goodness, faithfulness and sovereignty. By digging deep into God's Word this year, we learned how to face perilous and uncertain times, and we tapped into the hope and peace that only He offers.

AUDACIOUS GENEROSITY

It may have felt like the world stopped turning for a time, but Ward certainly did not waver in its commitment to give back to those within our sphere of influence. We sewed masks, donated and distributed food, delivered sanitizer and PPE, opened up our campus for testing, ministered to those in our community and beyond, prayed for the sick and jobless, and loved on the hurting.

HEALTHY FAMILIES

Keeping people connected throughout the pandemic proved challenging. But Ward found a way! Through leveraging today's technology, tapping into social media, and offering virtual seminars, classes, and online small group gatherings, we remained knitted together. WardKids and WardStudents pivoted to ensure our young people remained rooted in God's Word and connected to each other.

GLOBAL REACH

Our global partners needed us, more than ever this year. Many were on the front lines of suffering and we supported them through our prayers, giving, compassion, and encouragement. Despite extraordinary circumstances and trials, our partners did everything they could to ensure the hope of the gospel continued to go forth and reach the lost around the world.

EXTRA-MILE HOSPITALITY

The pandemic forced our church to truly consider what “loving your neighbor” looked and felt like, especially when the world turns upside down. Our staff and volunteers went the extra mile to ensure people stayed safe, but still felt loved and cared for every time they walked through our doors. Ward Church went above and beyond to show the love of Christ, down to the most minute detail.

MISSION STATEMENT

Leading generations
to live and love like
Jesus.

GUEST SERVICES + LOCAL OUTREACH

The pressures and limitations of COVID-19 presented challenges over the past year, but it also uncovered new opportunities. Guest Services served tirelessly, whether Ward Church was worshipping indoors or outdoors, and ensured protection of our congregation through new protocols and safety measures, all while demonstrating extra-mile hospitality.

We have continued to support our local partners faithfully. We took in one of the largest offerings Ward Church has ever seen, to support those in Detroit who had lost loved ones during the pandemic and didn't have the means to bury and properly grieve. We have provided first responders with thank-you gifts, delivered thousands of masks, hand sanitizer, medical gowns, etc. We ministered to the community in Detroit, to our public schools and to those in our immediate area. We delivered porch bags during the holidays to our secluded seniors. We were awestruck by the abundant generosity of our members through their donations of coats and blankets, by refilling our partners' food pantry shelves, and purchasing, packing, and shipping thousands of Operation Christmas Child shoe boxes. We mentored students online in Detroit and collected hundreds of supplies for our local fight against human trafficking.

OUR YEAR IN 3 WORDS

CONSISTENCY

We seamlessly continued in our support of local ministries as they faced COVID-19.

OPPORTUNITIES

We quickly responded to new needs that arose within our congregation and local communities.

GENEROSITY

Ward used their time, talents, and treasures to go above and beyond to serve others.

GENEROSITY ACROSS GENERATIONS

Ward members Alan and Barbara Brace, along with their daughter, Heather, have faithfully served with Forgotten Harvest since its beginning. So, when their little grandson, Holden, spent the night on a Sunday, they gave him the choice of serving with them the next morning during the Forgotten Harvest food distribution. He agreed to come with them, but then asked his grandma if he could also bring the money he'd been earning by doing chores. He wanted to donate it to help feed the community. What an inspiring example of generations serving together and modeling how to live and love like Jesus!

GLOBAL OUTREACH

For many of our partners, the pandemic forced them to shift the way they do ministry. Some of our people were sent back to the states, while others faced strict lockdowns in their countries. Even so, they found creative ways to share the gospel with those around them. Here, our partners hosted movie nights with a local coffee shop, pursued further training for counseling and leadership development, and received much needed rest. Overseas, some of our partners reached locals through food distributions, discipleship trainings through Zoom, and countless hours translating Scripture. While the challenges of a health crisis and closed borders posed a threat, the work of the gospel keeps going.

OUR YEAR IN 3 WORDS

RESILIENCE

Even with fears and instability surrounding them, our partners stayed focused on ministry.

CREATIVITY

Our partners found ways to keep reaching new people, adapting their strategies to provide physical and spiritual needs in their communities.

SUPPORTIVE

Our partners not only were caring for their teams and people, but they looked for ways to serve and support those beyond their immediate circles.

SERVING NEIGHBORS NEAR AND FAR

One of our ministry partners and current overseas missionary is a church planter in Dearborn serving the Muslim community. He hit the streets in 2020 to distribute food, hand sanitizer and other necessities to the community throughout the pandemic.

SMALL GROUPS

Small groups proved to be the life of the church this year more than ever before. In past years, our groups provided a way to make a big church feel smaller. This year, however, groups provided not only a sense of community, but a place to grieve, be supported, and grow together at a time when we couldn't always gather in person. In 2020, our group leaders got creative on how to meet safely with outdoor walks, participate in Zoom meetings, and hold socially distanced gatherings. For many groups, this was a year of reuniting and growing closer in Christ and community.

OUR YEAR IN 3 WORDS

CONNECTED

Our small groups found creative ways to keep connecting and ensuring the safety of group members while staying in community.

STABLE

Small groups remained together throughout the year, showing that the church really is more than a building.

CARING

Groups provided each person with the care and connection needed to survive this pandemic. Many groups went above and beyond to serve those inside and outside of their group.

COMMUNITY IN THE MIDST OF COVID

Bridgit and Brandon Beals first heard about Ward Church from friends. Their first time to Ward was for Big Game Sunday 2020. The Beals then joined a small group just as the pandemic was ramping up, and it's what has kept them glued to Ward ever since. "My small group has been a breath of fresh air after so long in quarantine," said Bridgit. "We have chosen to invest in each others' lives, learn and discuss scripture and show up regularly, whether on screen or in person. Since October, we have celebrated life milestones and losses together, and had a mini women's retreat together." Now Bridgit is getting involved with the All Worthy of Love anti-human trafficking ministry and has attended missions training in anticipation of being a part of a 2022 short-term missions trip.

Scan the QR code to watch a video about how small group relationships kept people close.

GROUP LIFE

COVID-19 tried to shut down the Group Life ministry at Ward. But it did not succeed! Ward's groups adapted to the challenge and found various ways to continue to meet safely. The Lord blessed groups who were meeting outdoors, some went to Zoom, and some split up to accommodate the smaller size limits. Eventually, people started gathering again in person with the use of masks and the meet-ups in person were extremely refreshing! Zoom has helped groups stay connected even when great distances came between us. People who traveled to warmer climates for the winter could still stay connected to their groups because of Zoom, so it has been a welcome addition for some! The Breathing Room Facebook Group proved to be another avenue for people to connect, grow, and find peace during so many months of turmoil. Despite the challenges, we still had people who found Ward Church and became members. Many of them even attended things like Connection Desserts and the Ward DNA class, having never been to the building!

OUR YEAR IN 3 WORDS

ADAPTABLE

Groups adapted and found various ways to meet: either online, outside, or in smaller group sizes.

LONGING

Groups waited a long time to come back together after so much distance and have started returning to the building, one group at a time. The desire for relationships is built into us!

FOCUSED

God has called us to meet together and get in His Word. Groups found so many ways to continue our call despite the pandemic!

BREATHING IN AND OUT DURING COVID

At the end of March 2020, Ward Church realized, like many, that COVID-19 was here to stay. This pandemic had thrown the world into pandemonium and isolated people across the globe. Ward Church soon made the fateful decision to move to online-only services. The need to stay connected drove Ward Church staff to create the Facebook group: The Breathing Room. Daily and weekly live streamed prayers and devotionals, encouraging posts, and uplifting scripture kept Ward Church going strong during an unprecedented time of uncertainty. In all, 1,400 people would join The Breathing Room, finding hope and friendship when they needed it most.

WARD KIDS

What a year that 2020 was! For us at WardKids, we started rolling up our sleeves and praying hard. We jumped online, we missed the kids, we missed the events, we missed the classes, but we knew our team would continue to rock and roll even in the midst of uncertainty. No one could've predicted how many video editing skills you would need for the year 2020 alone! We did online WardKids programming every Sunday and started up online small groups during that time. Our small group leaders jumped on Zoom, prayed for kids and families, and created at-home content to share with our families.

Our mission is to lead children to live and love like Jesus and at no other time has it become so apparent that parents are the spiritual leaders of their homes. We provided content, prayer calendars, Bible stories, activities and more, so parents could connect with their kids.

We also jumped into the community to love our neighbors. We worked with Livonia Public Schools, and engaged our staff and small group leaders to become food delivery drivers. What a joy to help the community and be a beacon of light. Each of our food delivery drivers would pray over the house they dropped food off at. To keep families engaged, we organized a drive-thru field day, outdoor movie night, Christmas In A Box (a drive-thru event), online prayer nights, an online parenting conference, and more.

OUR YEAR IN 3 WORDS

PRAYER

We prayed; we prayed a lot! We continue to pray for all of our families and kids. One thing is for sure, God is still in control and God is good (Psalm 100:5).

FUN

We got really creative and had fun in the middle of a pandemic!

SAFETY

We developed safety protocols that adhered to health guidelines to ensure our staff and visitors stayed as safe as possible.

HAPPY WITH HYBRID

Erin and Bryan Pack were looking to move from Grand Rapids to Northville, so Bryan could set up an orthopaedic practice in the area. Finding a good church home was very important to them, so although COVID-19 was raging, the Packs took to the internet and soon found Ward Church. They began watching online services and also tapped into the digital resources and online videos produced by WardKids. When they finally had a chance to visit in person, they felt they already knew so many of the WardKids staff personally!

WARD STUDENTS

Every church and every department will tell you that this year was one of the most unique years in the history of The Church. In student ministries, we worked through ways to engage with students as they were completely online and were fighting Zoom fatigue. We found creativity for how we were able to engage with students in worship, teaching, and small groups. This year placed a spotlight on one thing that we all desperately need and that is connection. It has driven us to be more groups and connection-focused to help meet this need.

One area where we say this really shines through was our annual Fall Retreat. We were so excited that we could have the retreat, and even more excited that more students participated in 2020 than in previous years.

OUR YEAR IN 3 WORDS

CHALLENGING

We had to develop all new systems and processes to connect with students.

INNOVATIVE

Everything we did, from our weekly services to each event, had to be reimagined to engage all students, both in person and digitally.

RELATIONAL

We have seen a deeper need for relationships within our students.

We were so excited that we could have the Fall Retreat, and even more excited that there were more students participating in 2020 than we had had in previous years.

WEEKEND SERVICE

The Ward Worship ministry has undergone a lot of changes in the past year. From combining venues, participating in all-online worship, holding outdoor worship, and returning to indoor gatherings, we have really shifted according to the needs of the times. Throughout the process, it was a priority to plan in a way that kept all generations engaged and connected. We did this by providing different varieties of music, settings, and including both digital and traditional elements in our online and in-person services. Stage setup allowed for social distancing and safety protocols and these continue to be a priority as we navigate through the various stages of COVID-19.

INNOVATIVE

We pivoted in multiple directions of worship to ensure the congregation could worship in the safest way possible, while still remaining engaged with the body of Christ.

GENERATIONAL

We adapted our services and worship elements to meet the needs of many people from across multiple generations.

UNIFIED

Although we were divided between at-church and at-home, we went to great lengths to ensure the Ward Church body remained unified in their worship and connected during services.

DON'T FORGET TO SHIFT YOUR GIFT!

Have you heard? Ward Church has a new online giving system, designed to make giving faster and easier.

- An enhanced online giving experience on all devices
- Easier ways to login and manage stored payment methods
- Tools to maximize your gift's ministry impact
- Ability to modify any scheduled recurring gifts
- Streamlined processing for Ward Church staff and volunteers

Due to the secure nature of our giving platform, we cannot move your giving information without your help. If you have a recurring gift set up, we need you to move your gift over to the new system.

Step-by-step instructions for moving your recurring gift are located at ward.church/give.

You can also view your giving statement at any time using your myWARD account.
